The Daily Courant.

Monday, September 3. 1722.

London, September 3.
Yesterday arrived a Mail from Holland, and another from France.

Florence, August 18.

IT is reported that the Emperor has demanded, that Leghorn be given him for a Place of Arms, in case Porto-Ferrajo on the Island Elba off this Coast, be given to the Spaniards.

Madrid, Aug. 25. A Junto of Health was assembled here some Day past, to take into Consideration the Request made by the French Court, that Leave be granted to admit Ships into the Ports of this Kingdom, from the Northern Parts of France; but no Resolution is yet taken on that Head. The Duke of Ossuna has received new Orders to hasten his Journey to France, in order to assist at his most Christian Majesty's Coronation; accordingly he is disposing of all his Furniture, intending to purchase at Paris such as he shall have Occasion for. Upon Advices received, that the Silver from Lima was arrived at Panama, this Court has resolved that the Galleons shall sail to Peru in August 1723, and to hinder the carrying on of Clandestine Commerce with the Ships of other Nations. M. de Chaligny, Minister of France, set out from hence the 15th Instant, on his Return to that Court. The Duke of Ossuna sets out thither this Week. On the 22d Instant the King declared at the Escorial the Infante Don Carlos's Match with M<sup>me</sup> de Beaujolois, and ordered Te Deum to be sung on this Occasion, together with Illuminations and ringing of Bells for three Nights successively.

Cadiz, Aug. 18. An Order for opening the Commerce between the Northern and Western Coasts of France and Spain, is soon expected from Madrid. On the 15th Instant arrived an Advice-Boat from Cartagena in the Spanish West Indies, with Letters of the 20th of May, giving an Account, that the 18th the Galleons sailed from thence in Company with the South-Sea Company's Ship for Porto-Bello, in order to open the Fair, and that they are expected here about the End of November next. The Spanish Fleet is retired from Algiers and put into Alicant. The Six Dutch Men of War are now at Gibraltar.

Brussels, Sept. 3. Prince Eugene of Savoy has wrote to the Marquis de Prie, a Copy of a Letter he received from the Emperor the 15th past, wherein his Imperial Majesty requires him to signify to the Inhabitants of the Low Austrian Countries, particularly those of Antwerp, Ghent, Bruges, and Ostend, that his Imperial Majesty has at length permitted the establishing an India Company in this Country; and revokes all Passports granted to private Persons for sending Ships to the Indies. The Marquis de Prie has required the Council of State to notify this to the Magistrates of the above named four Cities, that they may regulate their Affairs accordingly.

Amsterdam, Sept. 8. The Dutch Squadron in the Mediterranean sailed the 18th past from Altea-Bay towards Algiers, but did not arrive before that Place till the 22d, by reason of a Calm; the 28th they went so far into the Bay as to observe easily the Situation and Strength of the Port, and could discern nine cruising Ships lying unrigged behind the Mole: They perceived also, that the Algerines have raised a new Battery of 24 Guns within the Mole, extending towards the Sea, and were preparing another at the Mole's exterior Point to the Eastward of the Bay. Admiral Grave being fully satisfied by what he had seen of the Strength of the City and Port, and not having any News of the Spanish Fleet, he sailed from thence the 28th for Cape Palos. The 31st, at two in the Morning, he came up with the Spanish Fleet about 15 Leagues off that Cape: Admiral Serrano told him, he had been detained in Altea Bay and before Alicant longer than he design'd, and would now sail to Algiers. The Dutch Admiral answer'd, that he had lain before that Place since the 22d past, and waited for him to the 28th, but perceived nothing could be done there, because the Algerine Ships lie unrigged behind the Mole: Nevertheless Don Serrano replying, that the King his Master's Orders obliged him absolutely to sail thither, the two Admirals agreed, that the Spanish Squadron should cruise off of Algiers, the Coasts of Barbary and Spain, from Cape Martin to Cape de Gata, till the 15th Instant; and that the Dutch Squadron should cruise the same Time from Cape Malaga to the Streight's Mouth, as far as Cape St. Vincent and the opposite Shore of Barbary, or any other Place, upon Notice had of finding the Corsairs. The Admirals having settled proper Signals to be observed between both Fleets, Don Serrano stood away for Algiers, and M. Grave for the Streights, where he arrived the 5th past. During the whole time the Dutch Admiral cruised in the Mediterranean, he met with no Algerine Ship, although the Fleet sailed twice from the Streights to the Barbary Islands, steering along the Spanish and Barbary Coasts; and being informed by several Masters of British and French Ships, that they had met with no Corsairs, 'tis likely they are all retired towards the Levant, to avoid the Spanish and Dutch Fleets.

Paris, Sept. 9. The Parliament having received the King's Letters of Jussion, registered the 5th Instant his Majesty's Edict for establishing the Paulette-Tax, and the Establishment of several new Offices. The Duke Regent has given the Direction of the Building the Fort at Versailles, and likewise of its Siege, to M. de la Voye Ingineer, and Brigadier of the Infantry, who is to have for his Assistant, M. Daudet de Nismes, the King's Ingineer neer and Geographer. The Mareschal de Matignon is to conduct the Venetian Ambassadors to their publick Entry, as soon as M. Tiepolo is recovered. Some Days ago, a Man was taken as he lay hid in the Pulpit of the Cathedral at Rheims, intending to rob the Church Treasure by Night. The Archbishop of Rheims set out last Week to take Possession of his Archbishoprick. The Palace here is fitting up with great Diligence, and the Chapel in the Great Hall is already half Gilt, 'tis believed the whole will be finished by February next, about which time 'tis said the King will hold his Bed of Justice. The present Season being backward, the Inhabitants at Rheims have caused the King to be intreated to defer his coming thither till the 25th of next Month, that they may have time to get in their Vintage. The King has wrote a Letter to the Mareschal de Villars, telling him he will learn of him the Art of War; and requires him to come and take on him the Command of the Post at Versailles. The following Extract of the Advices received by the Court relating to the Plague, has been communicated to the foreign Ministers.

M. Bernage writes from Languedoc the 21st of August, that the Man who fell sick with his Child without the City of Mende, is dead; and that no Person remains sick of the Plague either within or without that City; many are ill of common Distempers, but it is hoped they will not be attended with bad Consequences, especially now Health seems confirmed in all other Places. M. de Rotbe in his of the same Date affirms that all the prohibited Countries are in good Health. M. le Bret writes the 20th, that 20 sick remain in the Hospital of la Charité at Marseilles; that 15 of them are recovering, and it was hoped four more would be cured. M. de Launay in his of the 19th sends one dated the 16th from Avignon, with an Account that no Person had fallen sick or died there the Week before; that the Town began to conceive great Hopes of growing well; that the Quarantine there was strictly observed, and that 1600 Houses were already cleansed and disinfected. The Line along the Rhone is guarded very carefully. Commissary Ruelle in his of the 22d sends an Extract of a Letter from Orange, advising, that no Person in that City was sick of the Plague, but intermitting Fevers were very rare, and attended with the Bloody Flux; which the Physicians say is a Sign the Plague is going off.

The Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty have received Letters from Captain Ogle, Commander of His Majesty's Ship the Swallow, confirming the taking of the three Pyrate Ships on the Coast of Africa, and of the killing Roberts, Chief of the said Pyrates, and the trying and executing great Numbers of them.
